

Nashville June 13. 1849

Hon. A. Lincoln

Sir,

In the absence of my son-in-law W Barrow, I took the liberty of opening your letter 5th instant.
He is now in Boston and may probably return via Washington, but the most ^{certain} mode of obtaining a letter from him, is to write to him at Philadelphia, to the care of C. C.
Stowell.

very respectfully

J. Shelly
